Today's clues

The people we are going to talk about are from a big island.

This island is surrounded by 4 seas and 1 ocean in the Northern hemisphere.

We're going back to the past between the 16th and 18th century.

Can you guess today's topic?

Discover Blackbeard!

Blackbeard was born around 1680 in Bristol, England. Pirates used nicknames, so nobody really knows his real name but historians think it was Edward Teach.

He was one of history's most famous pirates!

First, he was a privateer for the British and then he became a pirate in 1716. He captured a French ship and named it "Queen Anne's revenge". In 1718, he established his base in North Carolina in America. He captured many ships and stole their treasure (food, rum, gold, tobacco....). He was killed on November 22, 1718 by British soldiers. He was decapitated.
